What's New at The Authority?

Rowan Medicine Building

The building now has full electric allowing the interior finishes to be completed. HVAC startups, building controls, and fire alarms will be completed by March. Interior finishes of administrative work areas are in progress and the medical space finishes will be complete in March. All of the furniture, finishes, and equipment have been ordered and are expected to arrive throughout April and May.

Cape May Library

The primary work in the School Block of the building is mostly complete and focus is now set on the Gym Block. The remaining metal ceiling installation is in progress. Finishes, the completion of lighting, and the installation of security cameras will follow. Data wiring is nearly complete and plans for Verizon to complete their installation will be next. Installation of the restored, field-stained wood doors is in progress, as is the installation of the door hardware. Interior storefronts, glass stair and mezzanine railings, wood flooring in the main library space, and final inspection/approval of the elevator will be completed as well.

Cumberland Family Shelter

Warehouse

A 1,600 square foot addition was added to the main warehouse building to facilitate overflow dry storage. The additional space is also conditioned to permit short-term storage of perishable fruits and vegetables for dispense to food banks and temporary residents.

Building 3 (Family Building)

A full renovation of a roughly 4,500 square foot building is nearing completion and will soon be used for temporary housing for families. Currently, if a family unit is residing at the Cumberland Family Shelter, men are housed in one building with women and children in another. This building will permit the family unit to remain intact. The building has seven sleeping units with two units that are handicap accessible. Each sleeping unit features a private bathroom with toilet and shower, kitchenette area with sink, refrigerator, and microwave. Resilient materials such as epoxy floors and PVC wall panels are used in the bathrooms and vinyl plank flooring in the remainder of the building will help keep the building clean and reduce contamination. The building also has four offices, a computer room for clients, and a multi-purpose room.

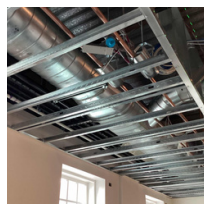

Family Shelter Building 3

Salem Courthouse

Building A continues with the installation of new electrical necessities. The ceiling grid and lighting are in progress. The emergency lighting is complete and has been tested, along with the sanitary system and fire protection systems. The mechanical rough-in is continuing, as well as wall framing and taping, spackling, and priming the completed walls. Ductwork installation is continuing, and wet beds and tile in restrooms is beginning. Preparation for CUPOLA demolition and addition of new steel is in progress. As for Building C, Sally Port Construction started excavation and footings. Electrical rough-ins are continuing, along with sheetrock, tape, and spackle. Priming and painting of walls is in progress. Unit ventilator installation, mechanical ductwork, and piping is also in progress.
